

ANY PICTURE-PICTURE FIGURES LOST TO COMMISSIONERS

ALBERTA TROS TAKE SEATS OF GINGER GROUP

Nine U. F. A. Vets Since 1921 All Missing, Result of Alberta's Turnover.

OTTAWA, Oct. 17.—When the Speaker calls for order in the new House of Commons next January of February many picture-pictorial figures will be numbered among the missing, casualties of the election.

Never in Canadian history have so many new members trooped into the House after an election. Many will take the place of men who have become national figures in recent years.

ALBERTA TURNOVER

The greatest turnover or turnout in Alberta. Since 1921 a group of United Farmers, who entered the House in the Progressive landslide, formed the nucleus of what was called the Ginger Group. There were nine in the last House. There will be none in the next. In the Social Credit sweep of Alberta, men like Robert Gordon, Ted Garland, George Coxe, Alfred Speckman, Mike Luckenbach and Bill Irvine went down to defeat—and the House doesn't seem the same without them.

Another veteran member who lost his seat was Charles Stewart, former Alberta premier, a member of the House since 1921 and a minister under Premier King.

WATCH NEW GROUPS

In the large contingent of new members there is bound to be some picture-pictorial figures. The Social Crediters from the west and east are paired with interest with the new C. F. P. members.

Among the veterans who will watch the political whirling is their own firebrand for the next few years are H. B. Hanson, minister of trade and commerce, a member since 1921; J. A. Barrette, of the old Quebec Nationalists who re-entered the House in 1925 as a Conservative; Henry Bourassa, fiery leader of the Nationalists in 1911; stormy petrel of Quebec in the early years of the century and a member of the House again since 1925; Hon. Raymond Mead, deputy speaker last session; Eccles J. Galt who used to enliven the House with bantering exchanges with Jean Francois Pouliot, who incidentally retired his Quebec seat.

OTHERS NOW OUT

Still others left behind were George Spotton of North Huron, who outwitted any man in parliament; General A. E. Ross of Kingston, affectionately known as "Hudson's" in service men; Dr. Peter McGibbon who entered the House in 1917; Speaker Brannan of the last House; W. W. Kennedy of Winnipeg, chairman of the House; Speaker Commission, John Vallance who used to lead the House during divisions along with Fred Totzke, his dekamate, who was not a candidate.

THIRD TREMOR SERIES ROCKS AFGHANISTAN

MOSCOW, Oct. 17.—A new series of earthquake shocks in the district of Tashkistan, near the Afghanistan border, destroyed several villages and started a new series of shaking from the mountain, said dispatches last night.

In all, there have been three series of quakes in the region, beginning Oct. 8. The last of the series at 107 after the first two were apparently the death blow, but was not great in the third disaster.

Gotham Ancient Landmark Goes

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The old hotel Brevoort, one of New York's last remaining landmarks and famous since its opening in 1884 as a rendezvous for Gormets, is to give place to an apartment building.

King Edward VII, when Prince of Wales, was taken to the Brevoort, at the lower end of Fifth Avenue near Washington Square, 6, he tested during a visit here in 1890.

Now Rudders Are Streamlined

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—It is the latest mechanical fashions the "Streamlined rudder." The freighter Calvary came into Montreal yesterday with the new equipment purported to increase her speed by a half-ton.

U. S. Oil Is Not Going To Italy

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Large United States oil companies, the New York Times says, have been approached on the question of stopping oil shipments to Italy. This action would be in line with League of Nations sanctions.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and Socony-Vacuum Company, which supply oil to Italy, are said not to be selling fuel oil to the Italian navy although they are reported to be supplying oil to Italian commercial vessels.

The Times says: Oil was not included in the list of war materials embargoed by President Roosevelt's neutrality proclamation.

FARM RELIEF BOARD VOICES NEW PLAN

Working in Dark As City Fails to Meet S. C. Government

Criticizing commissioners for failing to arrange a conference with the new provincial government for consideration of relief problems, Ald. J. W. Fry, at a meeting of city council Wednesday, decided the city's farm settlement board was "working in the dark" owing to the fact that no interview with cabinet ministers had been arranged.

This point was injected into the discussion during consideration of a report on taxation prepared by a special committee of council. The report recommended assistance from the province on matters of taxation, and councilors instructed commissioners to attempt to arrange a conference with the government for October 26 at which tax action problems would be discussed.

NO REQUEST

Referring to Aid Fry's criticism, Mayor Clarke said he had received no communication from the farm relief board requesting a conference with the government.

Letters covering the board's problems had been forwarded to provincial government officials, but as yet no answer had been received, said Commissioner David Mitchell.

"It's funny if you write letters to the government that they don't get an answer," commented Ald. Fry, who said the board was in the operation of the farm board, of West End.

Ald. Fry, a member, stated Ald. Margaret Crang.

Ald. H. D. Ainsley said council was not taking fairly active in requesting a conference, as the new government had been in power since August 22. Council supported his motion that commissioners try to arrange a half-day interview for October 26.

CAN'T CRITICIZE

As no meeting had been asked for, the government could not be criticized for not considering with civic officials on the matters in question, averred Mayor Clarke.

Commissioners were also asked to send cabinet ministers at the earliest possible time for a round-table talk on farm relief matters.

POLITICAL TAG DAYS IRKSOME

Political parties will not be allowed to hold tag days if a notice of motion moved by Ald. J. W. Fry Wednesday night with the approval of city council. His recommendation arises out of a recent permit granted by the city to the Social Credit party for a tag day here.

"Edmonton is now more like Oriental cities, with so many beggars in the streets," Ald. Fry complained.

U. S. RADIO TO BE REVAMPED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—A study aimed at reorganizing the United States radio system to provide from 20 to 40 super-powered stations and probably 150 new low-powered ones has been undertaken by engineers of the Federal Communications Commission.

Plans under consideration are said to call for the establishment of high-powered stations on the Canadian and Mexican borders. These stations, however, would operate with directional antennas, throwing most of their power inland and away from the border.

Plans also call for the establishment of a new station in the Mackenzie divide for Canadian Airways, and Leigh Brinnett, president of Mackenzie Air Service, the businessmen were taken to the main lounge of the work shop and then looked over the loading docks and landing fields.

THREE-WAY SCHEME

The project, which was carried out as a three-way proposition with the dominion, the province and city contributing to the construction, is rapidly nearing completion and it will be in full operation when opening flying starts next spring.

The main building contains living quarters for pilots, mechanic and members of the ground crew and accommodation can also be provided for passengers who are forced to make over-night stops at the airport.

There are also quarters for a caretaker and meals will be served in the main lounge of the building.

Members of the chamber decided to take on the job of furnishing the lounge room and then, their crews and passengers will be assured of every comfort when the base is put into operation next spring.

Among those making trip to the base were Gerald O'Connor, Fred Morris, J. R. Hill, H. S. Johnson, B. V. McCoshan, T. H. Campbell, H. M. Collins, Fred Churley, C. Garrett, J. H. Widman, J. E. Brennan, C. H. "Punch" Dickson, Leigh Brinnett, A. W. Haddow, and James Bell.

Strike Settled

PORT COLBORNE, Ont. Oct. 17.—The strike of 100 employees of the Maple Leaf Milling Company plant here was satisfactorily settled last Wednesday, it was announced by plant manager W. H. Cowan.

The workers walked out at the start of the day shift with demands for higher wage scales as the plant changed over today from a 10-hour shift to an eight-hour shift.

Doubly Lovely

You'd now you were getting an eyeful of charming twins, but you're not. You see Josephine Hutchinson as she reflects on her own reflection in an unusual pose by Fernie of Vienna. The picture is one of the beautiful film star shows that she's still playing the Narcissus role.

TWO RATEPAYERS' MEETS PRIOR TO CIVIC ELECTIONS

After considerable debate over the advisability of holding annual ratepayers' meetings prior to the civic elections, November 13, city council Wednesday decided that two such meetings would be held this year about the end of this month, one on the north side and one on the south side.

Hours of voting in the elections was set at 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. For the past two years polls have been open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., but councilors were of the opinion that if polls were kept open till 8 o'clock citizens would be given every opportunity of voting.

Considerable opposition developed over the mayor's proposal that annual meetings for ratepayers be held this year to give civic officials an opportunity of reporting on their stewardship during the past year. These meetings were also discussed in 1934 due to the poor attendance in former years.

Mayor Clarke stated there had been considerable attendance at such meetings and that taxpayers had a right to learn from the platform how the city had been administered during the year.

POLITICAL PURPOSES
Aldermen H. D. Ainsley and J. W. Fry objected to such gatherings if they were to be held for political purposes and in the nature of campaign meetings.

The majority of council decided, however, that the meetings should be held.

$90,000 for Looks Lost In Mishap

HELEN WENZEL

Fatal injuries suffered in an automobile accident resulted in an award of $90,000 damages to Helen Wenzel, former Pallas beauty. Miss Wenzel and Louis J. Hartz, Jr., grandson of the late Governor Elliot, were in the car. The amount was fixed by a New York supreme court jury.

FIRE DEPT. TO BE REPRESENTED IF PROBE MADE

The Edmonton fire department has retained legal counsel in response that branch of the civic service in the event of the proposed probe into the efficiency of that department being carried out, it was announced at an adjourned meeting of city council Wednesday.

P. G. Thomson, K.C., is representing the department.

Council did not deal with this question Wednesday, Mayor J. A. Clarke stating commissioners had as yet received no reply from the universities to a communication to the effect that which set out the cost to the city of such an investigation.

After the fire department association with headquarters at Winnipeg, have requested the investigation following the fire on July 29, which destroyed the Edmonton Grain and Hay company's elevator in North Edmonton.

Floods Congested Northern Portages

The northern portage of Port Smith and Port Pittwater, concerned the greatest rush of business, following the floods on Lower St. Lawrence Lake in history.

After the flood had held up traffic for weeks there was a great congestion at the portage. Men worked night and day to remove freight from north-bound steamers. The entire crew 24-hour shifts in relay for more than two weeks.

IF IT WILL HELP ALBERTA THE EDMONTON BULLETIN IS FOR IT

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17

THE PUBLIC HEARD FROM

Mr. D. Manion, Hon. R. B. Hanson, John T. Hackett and Dr. J. C. McCreary.

It was known as the anti-Canadian National group in the last parliament, were all retired to private life by the voters of their constituencies on Monday. F. R. MacMillan of Saskatoon, former member of the Conservative party, was not nominated for the new House.

The fate of these members may be taken as an expression of public opinion on the subject of railway amalgamation.

It is not intended that their railway system shall be handed over to private control; it will be sold on terms which will be decided by the people of the country.

They will expect the new government to maintain the Canadian National, and to restore it to the efficient position it held five years ago.

COMMERCIAL ISOLATION

Only three of the countries which passed judgment on Italy hesitated at applying the penalty of commercial isolation.

Austria, grateful to Mussolini for having told Hitler to keep "hands off," could not join the league of isolation.

And Hungary, which sells its wheat and cattle in Italy and can sell them nowhere else, decided to keep its market well supplied.

THE PEOPLE OF ITALY WILL NOT DRAW MUCH satisfaction from knowing why these neighbors refuse to join in cutting them off from world commerce.

The inference is too plain that had Austria and Hungary been otherwise situated they too would have closed their doors, and perhaps Switzerland.

Italy, including all those in Europe except these three and Germany, which quits the league on the 21st, will be left with only business relationships with the Italian people.

A "NATIONAL" GOVERNMENT

A fortunate circumstance is that the majority party in the new House of Commons will include representatives of the Liberal party.

In Dominion, though the Alberta delegation will have the Reconstruction party, will be only one man group.

By "nations" the army is even more satisfactory than by provinces. The Maritimers will muster 25 strong among the Government supporters, the two western provinces will have 15, and Ontario will have a contingent of 11, while western Canada will have a representation of 32.

By the geographic standard the party will be truly national. Neither of the three great divisions is without adequate representation, while the policies agreed upon of it necessarily reflect a balancing of nation-wide opinions.

A line-up of that kind there can be no such thing as one action dominating the Government to the disadvantage of the others.

In a better sense than some gentlemen in Montreal and Toronto hold, Canada is to have a "national" Government.

The party is assurance that it must be nationally in make-up, aims and policy.

THE BY-ELECTIONS

There should be of course no opposition to the election of Premier Albert and Hon. C. C. Ross to seats in the legislature. In the unlikely event that they should be defeated, no good purpose would thereby be served.

By an overwhelming majority the vote of the province would be cast in favor of the definite purpose of instituting a system under which each resident is to obtain Social Security in the amount of $3.00 to $7.00 per month.

They are entitled to expect that the Government and the Government to a fair chance to make good the undertaking.

Causing the Ministers to waste some weeks in electioneering will only delay matters, and the need is not lessening that the dividends be distributed at the earliest possible moment. In fact the outlook suggests the contrary.

Unemployment figures are not dropping, and in a large section of the province the crops have been disappointing. In town and country relief will be needed as generally, perhaps even more generally, than in previous winters. If allowance the Ministers' action will in any way expedite the issuing of the dividends, it may be that account also be fully to offer opposition to them.

PROVINCE AND DOMINION

Expressing himself as delighted at the success of his candidates in Alberta and Saskatchewan, where eleven Liberal candidates were defeated, Hon. Albert says he

"Will now have no hesitation in approaching Mr. King on behalf of Alberta, on account of the Liberal declaration before the election that he would be glad to co-operate with us in every way possible."

None the less because he and his party did not succeed in preventing the Liberal majority and thus getting in position to "move forward" along the line of monetary reform.

And none the less because the Social Crediters defeated as many Liberal candidates as they tried to defeat, Mr. Bennett might have succeeded in forming a coalition government and dictating monetary reform for five years.

Any Government properly calling itself Liberal must respect provincial rights, including the right to try out a provincial Social Credit scheme. Mr. King's "Hands off Alberta" is definite and final. Alberta will not and should not be black-listed at Ottawa because it undertakes to carry on a policy of living within its constitutional limit.

As to "co-operation" outside that field, this must of course always depend upon what the Liberal Government is prepared to do in return for that very elastic and much-abused word.

As one result of the election people will stop looking backward and try to look ahead. That ought to help business for everybody.

The best Mr. Stevens can do for his cause is to "forget" his extreme protectionist views and join the Liberal party. He can get all the help he needs there to squeeze the surplus money out of water and put it back in the criminal code to catch business crooks, and otherwise apply what legislative measures are really required.

Poems That Live

"WITH STRAWBERRIES"

With strawberries we filled a tray, And then we danced away.

Along the lake and the sea, Where we used to play.

Where we used to play, And August felt as fresh as May.

And where the spring trout was gay With thyme and balm and many a spray Of red, gold, and silver trout, With strawberries!

A shadowy, pale, silent and gray, Stole like a ghost across the bay; But now could hear me ask my fair, And then we danced away.

Can you hear that now what came to be, Can you hear that now their first day, With strawberries!

—William Ernest Henley.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COOPER

With the League of Nations imposing economic sanctions against Italy, and Italy threatening war in retaliation, the focus of the world's attention is turning to the Mediterranean.

The work of naval blockades and the likelihood that these will lead to a naval war.

What would be the probable course and nature of such a clash?

You recall the delicacy of the official language while the British fleets were moving into the Mediterranean.

The fleet movements were not hostile, but merely of a "precautionary character."

The Mediterranean is a very long sea. It is over 2000 miles in length—nearly as long as the Atlantic is wide.

Hence the need for British war-craft to take up their positions in the eastern Mediterranean before hostilities commenced in the zone between Sicily and Tunis.

Everything has been done, without question, according to long-prepared and frequently revised plans.

Should Britain ever lose control of the Mediterranean, Egypt, and the Suez Canal, would follow and her economic life would be ruined.

By whichever aggressive military power could control the Mediterranean against her.

Modern wars are as much a war of supplies as of armies.

This particularly applies to naval warfare. While warships are equipped with great engines of propulsion, combat, the effective work of a navy is done in imposing blockades and crippling an enemy.

It is in a favorable position for maintaining communications with Tunis and her African colony of Libya.

Her air fleets will probably be the most effective of destruction and attack.

French and British merchant ships are looking up their charts for the long run across the Cape of Good Hope.

It would be madness to try to run through the barred Italian zone.

Use Good Mental Talking Pictures

By DOCTOR FRANK MCCOY

In yesterday's article I explained how the words we say to ourselves while thinking have such a profound effect upon us.

During the time that we are thinking, we are actually in a conversation with ourselves.

Our thinking is done by a series of pictures, which pictures are brought out in the mind by words with which we are familiar.

We are familiar with the words we use, and we are familiar with the pictures which we call forth.

The one who is constantly looking back behind the mind over the words we use, we call forth.

Dr. F. McCoy

tain disease pictures suggest by words describing disease should not be surprised if the unhealthy words are reflected in sickening physical condition.

Some of the words most common in our language are, ament, attack, seizure, infection, contagion, and so on.

These words are of a similar type, all of which call up word pictures of certain unwholesome mental pictures.

These word pictures are of the words we use.

The memory part of the mind, or the unconscious part, can think only with whatever material has been given through past experience.

Bride-To-Be
Of The Prince
Goes Shopping

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Lady Alice Montague-Douglas-Scott is making shopping trips daily to complete her trousseau. It is learned tonight that the program for her wedding, Nov. 6, to the Duke of Gloucester, third son of her majesty, will be inaugurated this week after a conference of church authorities at Westminster Abbey.

Next week the Duke will accompany the King to Sandringham House, Norfolk, where they will hunt pheasants.

What To Do

Please tell me how to eat little cakes that are served in paper cases—that is, do you remove the paper or eat them out of the cases?
M. F.
Answer: It depends entirely on the kind of cake that is served. When paper-cake cases are passed, they are lifted out to individual plates, paper case and all. If the cakes are only the size of a bite or two, they are lifted out of the case and placed in the mouth. If the cake is a plain sponge or other paper cake, it is picked up and the pieces are broken off and eaten with a fork. If the cake is rich and crumbly with a soft icing, it is left in the cases and eaten with a fork.

YOUTH MUST FIGHT FOR Everything Wanted

Probably it will surprise the young people of today very much to be told that there are still only boys and girls who are the good old time. We editors know better.

When we reminisce about a golden age in which everything was "just like," we are merely spoofing. We know that it didn't really exist. But the boys and girls of today actually believe that there was a halcyon era in which they were a bank president's son in every day's pocket and a square-jawed diamond engagement ring on every maiden's finger.

The world is all changed, they tell you. Life is different. A young man hasn't the chance he had in the good old days. Their employers were eager to hire boys just out of college and pay them big salaries, and it was no more than to go to a fortune. Then all lovers had enough money to get married, and engaged couples did not have to wait and wait until they could afford wedding rings, as they do now. Oh, life was easy when Father and Mother were young! Every door of opportunity was open and a chap was fairly thrust through it into prosperity.

And so thinking, the young all day and beat upon their breasts and scotch across their heads and bawl the good old times while they are young. We editors know better.

What New York Is Wearing
By Helen Williams

But what is the real lowdown on these good old times that seem so glamorous to our children? Was life softer padded than it is now? Was success easier attained? Did fortunes drop into people's laps without their having to work for them? I know not. The ladder of success has always been steep and ground hard to climb, and it took just the same sort of fortuitous equipment to get in the past as it does in the present.

Fate has always played favorites. There have always been lucky people who were born with a silver spoon in their mouths, or whose Fairy Godmother bestowed upon them some great talent, but for the common run of average human beings life has always been a hard climb, and it is sliding. And the youngsters of today have to travel no rockier road than their parents did. When Father started out on a light job with a heavy pay envelope, he was expected to start at the top instead of the bottom. Anybody who had even talked about a thirty-hour week would have been considered crazy. Father took what he could get in the way of work, at whatever price anybody was willing to pay him, and started to make whatever he could of his opportunities. The richest salary started his career at $150 a week, slept under the counter, except on the street and did every sort of menial chore. Nine-tenths of the other men who are running things today also started at scratch.

There were poor boys who began by doing humble labor. They were patched clothes. They carried their lunches in tin buckets. They worked terrible hours. They had no amusement. No money to spend. They were few of them went to college. They were few of them went to college. They were few of them went to college.

In reality, there never were any good old times. Life is always hard, and the sooner the boys and girls of today realize that they will only have to get what they want out of life for themselves, the better it will be for them.

Frequent Shampoos Are Very Healthful

By CLADYS GLAD
Back in the seventeenth century in New England, the blue-nosed Puritans considered it decidedly immoral for any woman to voice a desire for physical beauty. In those days, any girl who attempted to increase her charms in any way was thought to be an unbecomingly character. And consequently, the women of that era seldom made any attempt at self-improvement. Today, of course, we moderns know that there is nothing so wholesome about a woman who desires beauty. Most women of this age do make an effort to enhance their charms. But some acquire foolish ideas that are more of a hindrance than a help and one of the most common of these is the idea that frequent shampoos are harmful to the hair.

Frequent shampoos are in no way harmful to the health of the hair provided, of course, that they are properly administered. For, besides removing dirt, dust and grime from the hair, shampoos also prove an invigorator to the scalp, thus promoting hair health.

SHAMPOO CORRECTLY
However, as I said before, to be beneficial, rather than harmful, shampooing must be done properly. I found that the most effective method of attaining a perfectly clean scalp and soft, glossy hair is first to wet the hair with warm water, then pour onto the scalp sufficient liquid soap to make a lather, and then rub the hair with the tips of the fingers. Then, rinse the hair with tepid water, and apply more soap.

After the second lathering, rub the hair again, and then a third application of the soap. Then rinse the hair at least three times in clear water. If all the soap is not removed with three rinsings, it is time to apply clear water until it is. For even the slightest trace of soap will detract from the lustre and softness of your hair, and will also prevent the hair from growing properly.

Answers to Queries
Blonde Hair Rinse
Rita: The blonde hair rinse to which you refer is composed of the juice of one lemon and one tablespoon of peroxide, one tablespoon of vinegar and a pint of clear water.

Agnes: Full information on eradicating freckles, pimples, blackheads and enlarged pores is contained in my "Beauty Culture" booklet. This booklet has a number of excellent makeup hints and advice on double chin reduction.

Lily Pons Just Can't Help Being Lucky: She Was Born on Thirteenth

Record Sent Across Sea to Metropolitan Spurred Success

Outstanding movie stars are writing the stories of their lives for The Bulletin. This story, by Lily Pons, is the seventh of the series.

— BY —

IT IS HARD to realize exactly where facts about one's self end and fancy begins.

Some of the details of my life history I can vouch for myself. Others I must take on good authority.

For example, my mother tells me that I was a seven months' baby and had two teeth when I was born. She says that her physician facetiously remarked that if I had been a regular baby, I'd probably have made my worldly debut all dressed in boots and a skirt.

And I walked at nine months and talked at 14.

I was born with a caul and on the 13th of the month. Whether or not this combination actually secured good fortune, I always have been my lucky day. And with sincere gratitude I realize that fortune has indeed been good to me.

April is my birth month, Cannes, France, my birthplace. My mother was born in Cannes, also, but her parents were Italian.

My father, a Frenchman, was in the automobile business, and for excitement drove in some of the big automobile races on the continent. He served at the front in the World War.

LILY PONS

War, was gassed and never fully recovered. He died eight years ago.

CHIEF FOR THEATRE

THEY say that I cried to be taken to the theatre when I was five years old. So my parents took me to see the opera, "Kaiserin Mathemore." That night, the family record continued. I left my bed and with one finger picked out the arched of the opera on the piano.

That decided my father I should follow a musical career. He gave me my first lessons, then turned me over to a professional teacher, who decided that I should go to Paris and study at the Conservatory of Music. Before I was 10 years old I won first prize at the conservatory.

The World War put an end to normal living conditions in France, so I returned to Cannes, where my mother was in charge of a large hospital. One of the hospital—sadly—of my childhood memories is playing and singing for wounded soldiers there.

ON STAGE AT 17

I PLAYED in comedy dramas at the Theatre de Varieties in Paris with the famous European actor, Max Dearly, when I was 17. I continued my straight acting work, never appearing in musical productions, and I never dreamed that I should embrace a singing career.

He wrote a letter to Alberti de Grottagia, noted Paris teacher, who is still my voice instructor, and I saw with me in Hollywood. Maestro de Grottagia gave me great encouragement.

Six months after I started work with M. de Grottagia, I had my first success.

AT CALGARY STRATOSPHERE BAGS ARISE

Nightly Balloons Used to Probe Air Currents, Temperatures

CALGARY, Oct. 17.—Every night at six this week a balloon is released at Calgary airport to sail into the stratosphere and collect valuable information concerning air currents and temperature.

The experiments carried out by C. H. Bromley of the Calgary Meteorological Bureau, are in conjunction with dominion-wide work under the supervision of John Paterson, chief of the Dominion Meteorological Bureau at Toronto.

MARCH TESTS

Three balloons were released in Calgary last March when the experiments began and another three were sent out on fact-finding missions in June. Four were found going as far east as the Alberta-Saskatchewan boundary.

An altitude of 91,000 feet was attained on the last test in which a temperature of 67 degrees below zero was recorded at their height. A March balloon only reached an altitude of 74,000 feet but a record of 29 degrees below zero was worked up on the self-recording instrument.

KITE BALLOONS

The heavy rubber balloons with a diameter of 70 inches are filled with hydrogen and carry a double bamboo kite, an altimeter and thermometer, both self-recording and packed in an aluminum case for protection against wind and rain.

When the balloon bursts in the stratosphere, the double kite carries the altimeter and thermometer to the ground. The altimeter case is fixed between the kite and never touches the ground. Directions are attached to the kite asking that they be forwarded to the meteorological office at Toronto, where a reward will be paid for their return.

Quebec Polling

New Year's Day

QUEBEC, Oct. 17.—For weeks Quebec has been awaiting word from Premier Taschereau regarding the date of its provincial election. After cabinet meeting yesterday the premier's newspapermen, "Election date" Oh yes, we will hold nominations on Christmas day and elections will take place New Year's day.

AMUSEMENTS

CAPITOL

Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers sing and dance to the tunes of Irving Berlin in "Top Hat," the colorful musical film successor to "Flying Down to Rio." "The Gay Divorcee" and "Roberta." It is showing at the Capitol theatre until Friday.

Berlin, king of popular song writers, did the complete background of the new picture, which unites the screen's premier singing and dancing romantic team for the fourth time. His six new hit numbers are woven into the romantic plot.

Combining delightful comedy with love interest, "Top Hat" unfolds against the colorful backgrounds of London and the Lido. Dances, said to be the most intriguing and spectacular ever introduced by Astaire and Rogers, are climaxed by the featured "Foolish Wishes," which is done in a brilliant Venetian setting where drifting gondolas and starlight lagoons add to the atmosphere of romance. The "Foolish Wishes," incidentally, is hailed as the successor to the "Carolees" and the "Contestants" and is acclaimed as more colorful than either of those previous dance hits. It is destined for ballroom popularity.

5. Obituaries

JOHN MULLER
The death occurred in this city Tuesday, October 15, 1935, of John Muller, 44 years of age, who was born in Germany, June 10, 1891. He was a native of Germany and came to this country in 1910. He was a member of the German Lutheran church and was a very successful business man. He was married to Mrs. Mary Muller and they had three children: John, Mary and Robert. He was a very kind and generous man and was loved by all who knew him. He died at his home, 1012 10th St. N.W., after a long illness. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock, Wednesday, October 16, at the German Lutheran church, 1012 10th St. N.W. Burial will take place in the German Lutheran cemetery. The Rev. Father Muller will officiate. Friends are invited to attend.

A Bargain in

KNITTED SUITS

This is the time to get a knitted suit at a bargain price. You'll wear it under your coat this winter and you'll wear it for golf next spring. There's a grand selection of two- and three-piece styles. The three-piece styles have contrasting pullover sweaters... the two-piece styles are in a plain knit or have a plaid top and plain skirt... there are some novelty checks, too. They're all wool garments, a few Bramble knit, mostly novelty weaves. For color choice you have green, black, brown, navy and black. Sizes 14 to 20. FRIDAY BARGAIN,

$6.95

—Sportswear, Second Floor, Phone 9-1-2-7-7

Boys' Vests and Drawers

Knit from a heavy cotton in a ribbed stitch. The drawers are finished with tight cuffs at the ankles, and a cotton sateen band at the waist. The shirts have both short and long sleeves. Natural color. Sizes 2 to 6 years. FRIDAY BARGAIN, 79c

Boys' Wool Suits

Junior will certainly be proud to wear one of these cozy suits. They're all wool in a ribbed stitch. Crew neck or polo style collar, with a button fastening at the shoulder. Colors: navy, sand, red and green. Sizes 2 to 6 years. FRIDAY BARGAIN, $1.59
